NAVAL VICTORIES,

PAINTED by the celebrated marine painter, CORNICE, the Italian artist. Three grand Panoramic views of the taking of the frigate Guerriere, by the frigate Constitution, is just added to the new Museum of Fine Arts, now re-established by the subscriber at his house in Church-street, three doors south of the Episcopal Church.

Elegant Wax Figures.

The celebrity of these elegant Wax Figures, needs no comment upon their merits; for during their establishment the last season, the connoisseurs of the city of New-Haven and its vicinity, are its best judges. The proprietor will only remark, that during their establishment in the city of Baltimore, the Citizens were so admirably pleased with their excellence, that many applications were made to retain them in the public Museum. And Mr. Peal, the proprietor of the Baltimore and Philadelphia Museums, (who is himself a painter of the first class,) often said, that "in the death of Reuben Moulthrop, America lost one of her greatest artists. These works are the last and best of that celebrated artist.

Elegant Engravings

from Scripture, &c.—Admittance 25 cents—after the first admission, half price

Daniel Bishop.
